WE wish you would permit us to take you into our confidence, and tell you about our business.

Although last year the capacity of our factories was doubled, we now find ourselves far behind our orders,—five to ten thousand cameras behind,—but these are being made and shipped very rapidly.

Since we began to make lenses, seventeen years ago, our business has increased steadily, year by year, so that now it has attained very great proportions, for, as our cameras are becoming better known, the demand for them increases at a tremendous rate. There can be no doubt that the prime cause of this is the exceptionally high character of our lenses, which are certainly better than any others made in the United States, and as good as any in the world. Many lenses made in Germany and France are advertised and sold in this country, and some of them are excellent; but the fact remains that our export trade in lenses to the Continent is very large, and their superiority is winning for them an ever-widening market, not only in Europe, but in Japan, Australia, South Africa, Brazil, etc. The lens is the important feature in a camera. You may have the most modern shutters and diaphragms and focusing arrangement, but without a good lens they are useless. Truly, "It is all in the lens!"

But we have not stopped with producing the best lenses. Our factory is complete. We are the only camera makers in the United States who produce all the parts that go into a camera. Every department is equipped with the latest labor-saving machinery especially adapted to its requirements, and therefore we are able to produce cameras that are better made than others, and sell them at lower prices, besides. Doubtless this is one reason for the popularity of our productions.

If you are at all interested in photography, send to us for an illustrated, 1899, catalogue. It will tell you many things about the KORONA CAMERAS that we should like you to know.
